The Central Shenandoah Valley Master Gardener Association is proud to announce the 2nd Annual Central Shenandoah Valley Garden Symposium! Our featured speaker, back by popular demand, is Doug Tallamy presenting "A Chickadee's Guide to Gardening", an old title with a new presentation. Heather Holm will tell us "What's the Buzz about Native Bees?" There will be segments on "Native Plants for All Seasons" and "Native Trees for Your Backyard"

The symposium will also offer an opportunity for sponsors, vendors and not-for-profits to set up displays, sell items, and have face-to-face time with enthusiastic gardening, birding, and conservationist communities!
